

Overview

Human design relies on the birth location, time, date and the placement of planets to create a body graph, which is a reflection of the person's energetic blue print. Human design shows you how you receive and transmit energy. It also describes your personality and soul imprints (conscious and unconscious). You can uncover your strengths, weaknesses and motivation. In short, it helps you understand who you are at an energetic level. You are taking a quantum leap towards unearthing your true self. Our human design guidance sessions are offered with deep intention & love to allow you to navigate you towards your soul alignment. Living authentically, as yourself, requires self-knowledge, trust (in self and life), and conviction. Before we dive into Human Design sessions we require the following details.
